

Henriette H. Bier | TU Delft

TITLE:

Towards Bio-cyber-physical Architecture

ABSTRACT:

Today's physical-digital continuum challenges architects to envision buildings and building processes as bio-cyber-physical systems that rely on interactions between human and non-human agents. These operate as multi-agent systems consisting of autonomous entities, which act towards achieving goals together by perceiving through sensors and by acting through actuators in all phases from design to production and operation of physically built environments.

LAB and BIO:

<http://www.roboticbuilding.eu/about/>